

Come to Lutesville's Biggest Picnic

August 13 and 14. Two days of joy, mirth and merriment

Fine Band. Steam Swing. Big, Free Exhibition Daily

The BIG, FREE display of fire works on the night of the 13th, with its deluge of falling stars, floating serpents, and multi-colored balloons; with bombs ascending high into the air and bursting with meteoric splendor, and rockets pouring their rain of multi-colored balls of fire across the arena, will be a thrill never to be forgotten. COME! COME!

Wheat Is A Good Price

And you will want to sow all you can. Ground properly prepared give best results. Get the old reliable BLOUNT or OLIVER CHILLED PLOW, they do the work. Better yet, get one of our SULKERS.

We have something new in GRAIN DRILLS, see them. DISC and SPIKE TOOTH HARROWS are our long suit.

Remember our 10 per cent discount on FURNITURE and RANGES.

If you can not find FRUIT JARS and TIN CANS elsewhere, we have them, and in quantity, too.

15 Per cent discount on REFRIGERATORS.

W. A. Kinder and family came up Saturday from Marble Hill for a few days' visit—Marquand item in Fredericktown Democrat-News.

Misses Marie and Emma Jane Wells of Marble Hill were in the city last Sunday while on their way to Kennett where they are visiting relatives—Clarkton Gazette.

G. B. Snider and little daughter, Annie, Milford Sander and Misses Miriam Sander, Mary Dunn and Lucy Allen motored over to Jackson and back in Mr. Snider's car Sunday.

Mrs. A. F. Seabaugh and daughter, Mrs. Ernest Seabaugh, of near Sedgewickville and Hosea Seabaugh and daughter, Miss Tava, made this office a pleasant visit Wednesday of last week.

Misses Eula Davault and Ethel Greenwood came home from the Cape with Riley Hahn Saturday. They returned Monday afternoon in G. B. Snider's car, accompanied by Mr. Snider and Ennis Chippard.

Misses Eva and Grace Lee and Kate Butler of Lutesville, Messrs Harold Smith and Paul Witmer of Marble Hill and Glen Phelps of St. Louis enjoyed a six o'clock dinner at the home of the former on Saturday evening—Charleston Enterprise-Courier.

Prof. A. F. Hendricks went to Birds Point on business Wednesday.

Little Misses Fern and Winnie Smith of near town visited relatives in the vicinity of Burfordville and Jackson last week.

Mrs. E. B. Mayfield and two children of St. Louis are here visiting relatives and friends. They came down on a boat to Cape Girardeau and visited her brother, Captain D. J. Conrad, and family at Dongola a few days before coming to Marble Hill.

Prof. C. L. Beatty, who is taking some special studies at the Cape Normal, came down last Saturday to look for a house, preparatory to moving his family here. Prof. Beatty will be our superintendent of schools for the ensuing year, and no doubt the school will prosper under his supervision as he comes highly recommended. He and his family will arrive here some time next month—Parma Courier.

"Uncle Dan" Hawn came down from his home in upper Crooked Creek township last Friday to visit his brother, Peter Hawn, here and other relatives and friends a few days. He came from Marquand on the train. He says he has sold his buggy horse and the trip would have been pretty hard on him if he had made it in a buggy, for he is about 87 years old now. Mr. Hawn carries a watch that he has carried nearly sixty years. He got it with a lottery ticket that he bought from Oliver Snider when he was county clerk—the first clerk our county had—and his father, on the Maryland lottery, drew the watch, which has a silver case and he says has been a splendid time piece. He walks with a hickory cane that he cut nearly sixty years ago. He always remembers Tom Perss when in town and while he was here he was joined by "Uncle Andy" Masters, our 83-year-old mail carrier, and Major J. S. Hill, who is in his 86th year, and all enjoyed the meeting and conversation. "Uncle Dan" presented Major Hill with a nice, hickory walking cane, which he had polished with his own hands.

Strayed—From my place at Sedgewickville about the first of June, two ewes and two ewe lambs. One old ewe has black legs and a bell on and the other is small, but has no black on her. Both lambs have long tails. Information leading to their recovery will be rewarded. Phone switchboard operator at Sedgewickville, Mo. 31

Secure uniform examination paper at the office of the county superintendent. WALTER M. WELKER, County Superintendent.

Superintendent Shupp of the Anti-Saloon league of St. Louis delivered a temperance lecture at the courthouse here last Sunday to a large audience. Mr. Shupp is a good speaker and all enjoyed hearing him. Accompanied by Judge George Ellinghouse, he made this office a pleasant visit Monday. He is very optimistic over what the future has in store for the temperance cause.

Fish Held for First Degree Murder

Vander Fish, who shot and killed J. W. Robinson near Zalma July 23, had his preliminary trial before "Squire" Glasener last Thursday and was remanded to jail to be held for the action of Circuit court for murder in the first degree.

Sheriff S. P. Presnell and special deputies, F. M. Seabaugh, and P. D. Estes took the prisoner down to Zalma. Prosecuting Attorney Homer F. Williams was there in the interest of the state, and Attorneys Morgan and Caldwell represented the defendant.

From the facts brought out at the inquest and preliminary examination, there seems to be a pretty bad case against Fish, but the defense may have some testimony that has not been brought out.

Scopus

Hello, readers! It has been a few weeks since I wrote to The Press and I guess I will have to come again. Health is good around here.

Corn is doing fine again since the mid last Thursday.

Well, our good meetings have closed at Bollinger's. It was a good, good meeting, and during the two weeks several of our boys and girls were converted. The ordinance of baptism was administered to them on last Sunday morning, and the meetings closed after the evening services.

Webster Dockins, who has been at Willard, Kansas, for some time, is back on a visit with home folks once again. We were all glad to see old Webster, and hope he will have a pleasant visit; then maybe he will come back sooner next time. He has been gone nearly two years this time. He is going to start back to Kansas in a few days, but maybe he will not have to go by himself this time, unless he wants to.

Miss Viola Nanney, who has been down in Scott county, near Benton, for some time, came home a few days ago.

They say Monroe Nanney's eyes bug out like knots on a log when he goes out and looks at his corn and thinks about the dry weather. Monday by way of Chester and arrived at Marble Hill Tuesday morning and from what they said about it they are not a bit anxious for any more experience of the kind. They came down to visit relatives and attend the big annual picnic at Leopold.

Glen Dockins attended singing at Mount Zion Saturday night. I guess this is enough at this time. Good luck to The Press and its many readers.

Tim Flissy Boy.
